I'm sure I'm one of those people. Feel free to tell me you need to kick me out. I did that to Kathy the other day to make sure she wasn't actively editing.

Thanks Rosemary,

I've been trying to do the same with mixed success (if someone has it open I have trouble locking them and there's usually 1 or 2 people in a lot of the docs).

Kelly – FYI I'm going to lock down the letter and BE on our SharePoint as read only. I've done that for other documents as I had time, but I'm afraid I've been inconsistent. As the PDFs come through, I've posted them and moved the Word docs to "older versions" folders. Trying to head off confusion.
